step to ending homelessness

Connecting people who are homeless to stabilizing resources that lead to income and housing.

The goal of Crossroads Connect is to provide men and women experiencing homelessness with access to a comprehensive employment resource center that offers the information, guidance and opportunities needed to overcome every barrier to securing stable and sustainable employment and independent housing.

The program will be marked by collaboration and flexibility through offering services to participants of partner agencies in Atlanta, as well as serving as an entry point for new participants. Working together with the community of providers allows us to maximize our resources and collectively remove every barrier to overcoming homelessness.
